

THE ANNA FREUD CENTRE

Research Assistant, Targeted Mental Health in Schools Evaluation Project (TMHSE)

UCL & The Anna Freud Centre

PERSON SPECIFICATION

Knowledge, including qualifications

Essential:

- Degree 2.1 or above which included some experience of quantitative and qualitative research
- Advanced knowledge of research
- Basic knowledge of health and education structures in the UK

Desirable:

- Knowledge of research design and methodology
- Knowledge of child mental health issues
- Relevant post-graduate qualifications

Experience

Essential:

- Experience of undertaking research

Desirable:

- Experience working in schools or health settings
- Experience of working with SPSS

Skills

Essential:

- Excellent interpersonal skills
- Excellent communication skills
- Excellent interviewing skills
- Excellent analytic skills
- Data analysis skills
- Excellent relevant IT skills including working with MS Outlook, Word, Excel and PowerPoint

Desirable:

- Advanced statistical analysis
- Advanced skills in quantitative analysis of data
- Advanced skills in qualitative analysis of data
- Skills in working with SPSS

Personal qualities

Essential:

- Able to prioritise between competing tasks
- Energy and enthusiasm
- Strong numerical skills
- Clarity of communication
- Team worker
- Able to work effectively in open plan office
- Able to travel across England as part of the role