

The course is suitable for all staff from both a Primary and Secondary School setting, including those who would like to further develop their engagement policy in school, or who have an extended role relating to family support, inclusion and behaviour management. This course is designed to support school staff to improve parent/carer engagement within an educational setting. You will find guides to good practice that will help develop effective partnerships with parents/carers to engage with their child's learning and wellbeing within the school community.

Duration: 2 hours or 5 hours

Format: Online

Group Size: Up to 30

Testimonials

"The training was fabulous, the best training I have had on the subject of mental health."

(Delegate, MHAT Online Training, Anna Freud Centre, delivered by Dr Rina Bajaj)

Who is this training suitable for?

Our training modules are suitable for anyone working with children and young people in a school, college or community setting and could include:

- School leaders
- Teachers and staff in schools and colleges
- SEN/Designated Mental Health Leads
- Learning mentors
- PSHE leads

Key Learning Outcomes

- Understand the meaning of parental engagement and the challenges that this can involve
- Explore which factors are important in developing positive relationships and engagement with parents and carers
- Learn how to implement a framework to improve parental engagement
- Develop practical strategies to improve the engagement of all parents and carers
- Signposting to trusted mental health and wellbeing resources and sources of support

Registered address:

Anna Freud Centre,
Kantor Centre of Excellence,

King's Cross site:

4-8 Rodney Street, London, N1 9JH
T: 020 7794 2313 E: school.training@annafreud.org

Our Patron: Her Royal Highness The Duchess of Cambridge

Anna Freud National Centre for Children and Families is a company limited by guarantee, company number 03819888, and a registered charity, number 1077106.